Prohibitionists in Stand Against Any Change in Dry Law

(Official Report)

A meeting in the interest of prohibition was held Sunday night, November 27, at Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church. The pastors of the following churches gave brief addresses: The Rev. Mr. Brown of Poughkeepsie Congregational Church, the Rev. Mr. Armstrong of Rondout Presbyterian Church, Dr. Smith of Wurts Street Baptist Church and Dr. Deming of Trinity Methodist Church.

Dr. Deming said that the recent legislation did not change the Constitution. The Eighteenth Amendment is still in the Constitution; every official is sworn to stand by the Constitution; the character of beverage alcohol has not changed; the character of the saloon has not changed; the character of the liquor traffic has not changed; the character of a man under the influence of liquor has not changed—he is a menace to society. Congress may legalize the sale of beer at once in the coming session of Congress, and we believe we ought to do everything in our power to prevent any sort of act of Congress which shall in any sense nullify the 18th Amendment. Dr. Deming then read two petitions, one to be sent to the Senate and one to the House of Representatives. He also urged everyone present to sign both petitions.

The Rev. Mr. Brown said, "I believe I can truthfully sign my name to the papers Dr. Deming just read. He also said that he was in favor of the Eighteenth Amendment because he believed it to be the best thing that has been found to combat the liquor traffic. He then told of some of his experiences in England and Canada. He lived for a time in the Province of Quebec when the liquor traffic was under government control and told of the conditions as they existed there. The main thing, he said, is that we are dealing with intoxicating liquors and should be treated as such. Each should make himself responsible for a part in the enforcing of the Eighteenth Amendment. He said, "I feel that in my stand I am standing in the respect of other people and believe you feel the same." If there was a control of disease, some epidemic, some one had smallpox, or typhoid fever, we would do all in our power to meet it. This church would be full if there were doctors here speaking on how to prevent or cure these diseases. If it is something that will degrade mankind and has a tendency to drag them down, it is up to Christian men and women to meet that situation. If every man and woman were Christians, they would not allow this to control us. We notice what has happened in Canada. They asked for a modified type of beer—4.4%, now they want something stronger than this. We are told that in 1925 conditions were very bad. $25,000,000 was the revenue from the liquor traffic. It was a wonderful thing to have the money for government control, they say. The second year it nearly doubled itself, but we find that it does not satisfy so that now hotels and restaurants are asking for beer by the glass.

They tell us that in this country the old saloon will not come back. What the Eighteenth Amendment prohibits is intoxicating liquors. It is a saloon if we have intoxicating liquors no matter by what name it is called. In Quebec they have beer in the grocery stores and taverns and other places. It is said that the difference between the present and the old is that the man then stood and drank and now he sits down and drinks. The fact remains, the man is down. In 1930 the Canada bill for intoxicating liquors was equal to 1,000,000,000 loaves of bread. You cannot buy beer and bread with the same money. If the goods are so good, it cannot be dry goods. They contend that the money will go into the government and help the people to help the poor. It is up to us to do our best and one way is to put our name to the petition. We shall not vote for it. Do you think we would have any trouble if all took that stand? The Rev. Mr. Brown said, "I am willing to walk in the footsteps of Paul and Jesus. Christ is not because I expect to get something to satisfy a desire. It is because I want to create a situation that young boys and girls growing up will not want intoxicating liquors." It comes home to each one of us whether we will take our stand with Paul and Jesus Christ or by the side of the bootlegger with something that will degrade humanity. Then if they do have it you have taken your stand. Right always wins. If it is voted out again, if it is brought back for awhile, stand by the best thing you can do. Sign the paper and do all within your power to oppose the wet and all that will destroy the constitution.

The Rev. Mr. Armstrong said that he was not individually responsible for what other people do. It is not necessary to be on the winning side. It is necessary to take our stand where we think we should. Someone has said that it is not necessary for us to sign these petitions; that we are not responsible for what others do, that this is a free country in which we live, democracy will not be able to survive any weight that is heavier than the will of the people. If the people want any law and are able to secure that law, then that is what will be the law of the land. In the first place, we were opposed to the nullification of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Fire In Mail Car Of Catskill Mt. Train

Discovered By Two Mail Clerks As Train Enters West Hurley Station—Several Sacks Damaged

Fire, said to have caught from a small stove carried in the combination mail and baggage car of Train 9 on the Catskill Mountain Division of the New York Central Railroad, was discovered by the two mail clerks as the train entered the West Hurley station about 7:50 this morning.

Station Agent McGinnis, with the assistance of others, put out the blaze by the use of fire extinguishers and water, and the train went on its way in about a quarter of an hour. It is understood that the stove was located in the small compartment of the car in which the sacks of mail were stored and in which the two clerks were engaged. How it succeeded in getting a headstart, under the circumstances, or the extent of damage done could not be learned. Apparently several sacks were damaged by fire in addition to whatever damage may have been done by the water. Train 9 leaves Kingston at 8:40 a. m. It picks up mail at the West Shore station, including mail that has arrived from New York city and Albany trains and local mail that may be waiting for points up the mountains.

Postmaster Edward L. Merritt of Kingston states that the Kingston office has no way of knowing, except possibly in the matter of registered mail, what mail is carried on the train. The train mail from points outside is under the jurisdiction of the Railway Mail Service and does not come to the Kingston office. There are two mails a day up this division, but no record is kept of mail leaving the local office, the main idea being to get it on its way as early as possible.

Depression Plant New Indoor Sport

A Number in Kingston Have Tried It With Success—You Need a Few Pieces of Coke and Stir Up a Mixture in Which to Deposit the Coke

A new indoor sport is being developed in Kingston by a number of residents. It is known as growing the depression plant, and the development of the plant growth is watched with interest.

The directions, according to those who grow the plant, are very simple. You first obtain a shallow glass dish and place in it two tablespoons of water, add one tablespoon of ammonia, two of blueing and two of ordinary table salt. You stir this mixture thoroughly. Then if you desire your plant to assume any special coloring you add some vegetable coloring. After the desired coloring has been added you stir the mixture thoroughly and then place in the dish several small pieces of ordinary coke and place the dish and its contents in a warm place and wait developments.

In a day or so a feathery fungus growth will appear in the dish, covering the pieces of coke. This feathery growth will be the color you desire if you have added the desired vegetable coloring to the mixture before placing the coke in it. This feathery growth is easily broken and it is best not to move the dish containing it but leave it in a warm spot in the house. Near a register is as good a place as any. This is what is known as a depression plant. Those who have grown it say that it reaches its full growth in about three days and will live for about three weeks.

Kills Wife, Small Son And Himself

Elizabeth, N. J., Nov. 29 (AP)—Archibald MacCullum, a cashier for the Lorillard Tobacco Company, shot his wife and small son to death today, and then took his own life.

Police said he left a note detailing a shortage in his accounts. County Physician C. A. Brokaw, who examined the bodies, said there was no doubt that the 48-year-old cashier had slain his wife, Elizabeth, 42, and their son, William, 8, and the motive was revealed by a sealed envelope addressed to Sidney Kelly, auditor of the Lorillard firm. MacCullum had been employed for 30 years in the New York office.

ROOSEVELT STUDIES FARMERS' PROBLEMS

Warm Springs, Ga., Nov. 29 (AP)—With material at hand, gathered from several days of conferences, Franklin D. Roosevelt had before him today the task of putting before the committee that will act upon them, his views of what is necessary to help the farmer.

In the opinion of some of those who are familiar with the series of conferences he has held, the president-elect is leaning toward some form of domestic adjustment plan to be used in dealing with agricultural surpluses.

Federation Hears Of State Convention

Mrs. Walker Given Report on New York State Federation of Women's Clubs' Convention

On Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, the lounge in the Governor Clinton Hotel was filled with members of the various clubs and individual members of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs, gathered there on invitation of the Twentieth Century Club, to hear Mrs. Harry B. Walker, president of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs, give her report of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs' convention held at the Hotel Astor in New York city November 14 to 17 inclusive.

Mrs. Boecker, president of the Twentieth Century Club, welcomed the guests and expressed pleasure that so many of the club women of the city could meet with them and hear one of their club members as well as the president of the Federation. Mrs. Harry B. Walker, tell of her four days at the convention in New York city.

Mrs. Walker's address was given informally and therefore the more intimately, touching only upon the outstanding features of the meetings. There were some changes noted in the manner of holding the meetings, etc. There was much more music, both large group singing and by the way of entertainment, varying the program both delightfully and culturally.

The morning meetings were in the nature of round table gatherings for the discussions of apparently almost everything of worth under the sun. In the afternoon the findings of these round table conferences were presented to the entire convention. This year Junior Federation clubs are being stressed and encouraged, to such an extent that they have doubled in numbers within the past year. The whole of the first morning was given over to the Junior Clubs and the entire program was exceedingly interesting, especially as anticipating the future.

The convention which was held in the Hotel Astor was called to order with a single call, followed by the salute to the flag, after which "Taps" were sounded in honor of those who had died during the past year. This was followed by the singing by the entire assembly of "America, the Beautiful," with organ accompaniment as the words and appropriate scenes from "America, the Beautiful" were thrown upon a moving picture screen.

Each convention session was opened with a fine organ recital. Distinguished musical leaders greeted the delegates and led the community singing each day. Dr. Walter Damrosch, Albert Stoessel, Reinold Verrentrath and John Mundy were among the musically noted men.

In the morning round table conferences of the following departments were held: the condensed and brief of these conferences being brought to the entire convention in the afternoon: American Homes, Arts and Music, Civics and Citizenship, Conservation, Education, International Cooperation, Legislation, Well known speakers, introduced by the various department chairmen, presented the salient subjects of the departments.

Mrs. Walker gave important features of the addresses by Dr. James Gordon Gilkey of Springfield, Mass., who spoke on "Is the Character of Young People Deteriorating?" answering his own question in the negative. James Frederick Green, "Emphasis of Youth of the United States to the General Conference," Walter Van Kirk, whose subject was "Putting a Soul Back into the World," Baroness Ishimoto, who spoke on "The Status of Woman in the Orient," Dr. James T. Shortwell, who talked on "The General Crisis and the Responsibility of the United States," Dr. Raymond Russell, who presented "Our Foreign Policy and the Economic Crisis," the Hon. George A. Hastings, who told of "The Message of the Children's Charter," Mrs. William Brown Maloney of the New York Herald-Tribune, who gave a quietly impressive address on "Spiritual Values, Woman a Factor."

Among the unusual features of the programs were "Interpretations of Achievement by those who have won the goal," Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Mrs. Ogden Reid, Dr. Florence Rabin, Fanny Bearst, and Ruth Nichols, and a few sincere words of greeting by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, soon to become the first lady of the land.

The musical programs were arranged by the state chairman of music and included solos by outstanding vocalists, chamber music, piano solos, old-time song characterization and interpretative dancing.

There were messages from the district directors and a fine "Fashion Show" was presented together with a talk on making the best of one's appearance.

Two or three of the strongest stressed goals to be attained in American life today were a return of spiritual ideals, striving after in place of the emphasis upon the material; side of life; cooperation in all phases of living; emergency relief work of every sort.

$20,000 Boarding House Fire Monday

Joseph Mekorsky, who conducts a barber shop at 205 Fair street, had closed his shop Monday evening about eight o'clock and was on his way home when he was informed that his large 15-room boarding house near DeWitt Lake, to which he resided was burning. He found the house a mass of flames when he reached the scene and neither he nor the Eddsville firemen, who had responded to a call were able to do anything to save the building from complete destruction. The firemen laid a line of hose, however, and kept the flames from spreading to a smaller house standing about 50 feet distant.

With the exception of a few minor articles of furnishings, such as a chair and some blankets, the house and its entire equipment, including furniture and furnishings, canned goods, stores of food and groceries, is a complete loss.

According to reports the fire was first seen about seven o'clock, the flames issuing from the second story, at the front and near where the electric wires enter the house.

There was no one in the house at the time, Mr. Mekorsky being at his shop in Kingston and as wife being in New York, where she went to visit a daughter three weeks ago.

Included in the loss, which Mr. Mekorsky estimates will reach $20,000, is $500 in currency which the owner had stored under a loose board beneath his bed on the first floor.

The property, which was purchased about six years ago from Hall & Burnett, is situated at the head of DeWitt Lake, and was formerly a portion of the Consolidated Cement Co. property. There were three buildings, including the one just burned. One of the other buildings burned about three years ago, within a few months of the fire, which destroyed the same house known as the DeWitt house, in the same locality.

Mr. Mekorsky, who came to this country some 25 years ago, has spent most of his life since that time in New York city, working at his trade, and came to Kingston last September, opening a shop on Fair street. The conduct of the hotel, known as the Whitewater Falls House, he left to his wife, but he states that during the past few years he has paid many thousands of dollars of his earnings into the property, installing electric lights, water and in making other improvements.

Five Day Week Gets Approval Of Labor

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 29 (AP)—Encouraged by the roar of approval with which their convention accepted one phase of their program for unemployment relief, leaders of the American Federation of Labor looked forward today to speedy action in others.

The body yesterday committed itself to a nation-wide application of the five-day work week and six-hour day without reduction of wages.

Today, the convention awaited the resolution committee's report on compulsory unemployment insurance, recommended by the federation's executive council, along with shorter work schedules as "of prime importance if unemployment relief is to be obtained."

HOPSTADTER COMMITTEE TO RESUME HEARINGS

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Hopstadter legislative investigating committee, whose real purpose—to base on its investigation of the New York city government recommendations for legislation to better conditions—has been somewhat obscured so far by the sensational nature of its investigation, was set to resume hearings today.

From now on, according to Samuel Seabury, its counsel, the committee will take up the constructive phases of its work, the first to be a comprehensive survey of the expenses and personnel of 12 or 14 city departments. It has been indicated that Arthur Meyer, Joseph V. McKee and possibly former Governor Alfred E. Smith will appear as witnesses.

NATURAL GAS STRUCK ON JULIUS SIMPSON'S LAND

Willow, Nov. 29—The many friends and neighbors of Julius Simpson of Lake Hill will be pleased to learn that a natural gas gusher of 2,250,000 cubic feet flow was struck on Saturday, November 19, on the property of Mr. Simpson in Skues Corners, N. Y. It was named the Julius Simpson No. 1 after the owner of the land.

In these times of "depression" news of this sort comes as a welcome diversion indeed, and the many friends of Mr. Simpson in Willow and Lake Hill are pleased to hear of his good fortune.

The attitude of the majority of House Republicans is doubtful although they are not about to make any outright votes. Should the Democrats claim their 226 members and the Republicans claim eighty votes, the resolution would be adopted and sent to the Senate by a fair margin.

Dr. Fite Talks on Negligence Action In County Court

Dr. Emerson I. Fite, of Vassar College, was expected to speak on "The growing international relations of the United States" at his lecture for the Monday Club and as a social member in the shape of the First Reformed Church of Monday afternoon. What he really did talk about was "Negligence and Inter-National Relations" and it proved to be an exceedingly illuminating and thought provoking address.

He talked about the 48 states of America and the independent manner in which they behaved toward one another and their very friendly cooperation as an idea of approach to the entire world, and as creating a foundation for world-wide cooperation. We have here one vast scheme of cooperation between 48 states with one central government. The speaker surprised his hearers when he showed how New York was unable to work for several weeks. He testified he was getting $4 a day at the time he was injured. He seeks to recover for doctor's bills and hospital expenses and for the injuries which he suffered.

Dougherty testified the finer sand underneath the gravel had been indicated by Mr. Longyear as the kind of sand adapted to the use he was to put it to. He said the bank caved in without warning, covering Hilker's truck to one side and caused the wires to short and a fire started.

Judge Bernard A. Culliton appears for plaintiff and A. J. Cook for defendant.

Defendant denies any liability and claims that he did not instruct plaintiff to take sand from the place where it was being taken and that he is not responsible for the injuries suffered.

In the department of taxation, the double tax menace has been removed by cooperation between states and in many matters we have today "Agreements" between states.

Just so there is cooperation in administrative and judicial matters, as for instance, the extradition of criminals.

In our municipal government we again find cooperation between various departments, fire, water, health, etc., all under city management. In the interest of efficiency and cooperation, Smith when he was governor reduced some 150 into 20 departments, which are now working quietly together. The lecturer considered this the best argument for the cooperation with the outside world, the success of the cooperation between our 48 states.

The old idea of rivalry and competition being the life of trade, Dr. Fite showed to be giving place to the better idea of mutual cooperation. In next week's lecture, Dr. Fite promised to show how this lesson of cooperation could be made use of between countries as well as states of one country.

HELEN KELLER AT KINGSTON HIGH SCHOOL, DECEMBER 15

The people of Kingston will have an opportunity of hearing Helen Keller, deaf and blind, world famous and world loved, speak here on Tuesday, December 13, in the Kingston High School.

Miss Keller, who is coming here sponsored by the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs, is devoting her life to the constructive work of the American Foundation for the blind and will speak especially about the marvelous work of the Foundation, of which Calvin Coolidge is the honorary president.

Invitations to the meeting will be issued to the city churches and to various organizations throughout the city in numbers sufficient for distribution to their members.

Miss Lotta S. Rand, who represents Miss Keller, was in Kingston on Saturday and met with members of the Executive Committee of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs at the home of the president, Mrs. Harry B. Walker, to make arrangements for the meeting which the Federation considered a privilege to sponsor.

DEMOCRATS MAY FORCE REPEAL BY CAUCUS

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—The iron rule of caucus may be broken by the Democratic House leadership to bind wavering colleagues in line for outright repeal of prohibition when Congress meets Monday.

Several chiefs plan to make the suggestion to Speaker Garner, with Saturday in mind as the caucus date.

The vice president-elect who drafted the repeal resolution said yesterday he thought it unnecessary to resort to this means, but later several prohibitionists and some who favor outlawing the saloon, approached other leaders with the word that if bound by caucus rule they would vote repeal.

The attitude of the majority of House Republicans is doubtful although they are not about to make any outright votes. Should the Democrats claim their 226 members and the Republicans claim eighty votes, the resolution would be adopted and sent to the Senate by a fair margin.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Treasury receipts for November 25 were $2,325,372.51; expenditures $6,953,814.53; balance $604,052,575.22. Customs duties for 25 days of November were $21,497,824.83.

Negligence Action In County Court

A negligence action was taken on for trial in county court this morning. Edward C. Hilker seeks to recover damages from Stanley Longyear for injuries sustained on May 9 last when he was injured when a sand bank owned by Longyear at Woodstock caved in while he was engaged in getting out sand.

Hilker suffered a dislocated and fractured hip and other injuries. At the time Hilker was employed by Louis Dougherty of Woodstock. Plaintiff alleges that some time before he had gone with Dougherty to get a load of sand at the bank and Mr. Longyear told them to get the sand at a point near where the truck was being loaded on May 9 when the caving took place.

Hilker and Dougherty were loading a truck when the bank which overhung suddenly caved in and buried Hilker.

Dougherty after uncovering Hilker's face called for aid and the Woodstock fire truck responded. As the truck left the fire house two men, Fred Mower and Cortland Rodney, were injured when the truck struck the engine house door.

Hilker was at the Kingston Hospital for 16 days under the care of Dr. Lammie and then went home but was unable to work for several weeks. He testified he was getting $4 a day at the time he was injured. He seeks to recover for doctor's bills and hospital expenses and for the injuries which he suffered.

Dougherty testified the finer sand underneath the gravel had been indicated by Mr. Longyear as the kind of sand adapted to the use he was to put it to. He said the bank caved in without warning, covering Hilker's truck to one side and caused the wires to short and a fire started.

Judge Bernard A. Culliton appears for plaintiff and A. J. Cook for defendant.

Defendant denies any liability and claims that he did not instruct plaintiff to take sand from the place where it was being taken and that he is not responsible for the injuries suffered.

Completing Program For Farm Banquet

The program for the big annual banquet of the Farm and Home Bureau Association on Wednesday, December 7, is nearly completed. It will be held in the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church. The full course turkey dinner will be served at 7 o'clock by the ladies of the church. Reservations are limited to Farm Bureau, Home Bureau and 4-H Club members, their families and friends. Because of the limited capacity, the committee of which E. W. Hathaway is chairman, asks that reservations be made promptly. All reservations must be in by Saturday night, December 3.

Zucca's orchestra will furnish the music and "Paul" will lead the community singing. Songs will be rendered by a double quartet composed of Mendelssohn Club members, and three solos in costume. The Plattekill Grange play which won the county dramatic contest will be given and Prof. J. A. Cope of Cornell will give a talk illustrated with motion pictures. Arrangements are also under way for another prominent speaker, but as yet they have not been completed. The committee is striving to have a program up to the standard of previous years.

The privilege of the floor was extended to the visitors by Chairman Elsworth on motion of Supervisor Lamourée, seconded by Supervisor Myers the reading of the minutes of the previous session was dispensed with and the board immediately took up the work of the evening.

The Committee on Equalization submitted the following report, which was read:

To the Board of Supervisors of Ulster County: Gentlemen: Your Committee on Equalization respectfully reports, that they have examined the tax rolls of the several Towns of the County and of the City of Kingston, and such other evidence as was presented to them by the representatives of the several Towns and the City of Kingston, and the State Tax Department to ascertain whether the valuations in one tax district bear a just relation to the valuations in all the tax districts in the County; and they have determined that the ratios or percentages which the assessed value of the real property in each Town and in the City of Kingston bear to the full value of such real property, are as follows:

Denning 42
Esopus 36
Gardiner 38
Hardenbergh 58
Hudon 58
Kingston (Town) 60
Kingston (City of) 74
Lloyd 50
Marbletown 50
Marlborough 30
New Paltz 42
Olive 29
Plattekill 62
Rochester 20
Rosendale 34
Saugerties 73
Shandaker 33
Shawangunk 35
Clerk 36
Wawarsing 44
Woodstock 70

And your committee does hereby respectfully recommend, that such ratios be adopted and established by this board as the ratios which the assessed value of the real estate in each town and in the city of Kingston bear to the full value of the real estate in such towns and city.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Dated, Kingston, N. Y., November 28, 1932.

Rondout Creek Was Frozen Over

For the first time this season the Rondout creek was frozen over from shore to shore Monday night as a result of the cold wave that has gripped the city since last Saturday. The ice was not very thick and was soon broken up by the tide.

The cold wave settled over Kingston on Saturday and since then cold weather has been continued cold weather with ice forming each night and with heavy white frost covering the ground.

Thermometers have registered from 15 to 20 degrees above zero here.

HENRY FORD SPENT A RESTFUL NIGHT

Detroit, Nov. 29 (AP)—Physician attending Henry Ford, operated upon for hernia and appendicitis, announced this morning that the 65-year-old industrialist had spent a restful night. A bulletin issued at 10 a. m. stated:

"Mr. Ford had a quiet, restful night. His temperature is 98.5; pulse 70, and respiration 18."

Indianapolis. A man with a cold in his head.

To a gasoline station man said: "Just give me a quart."

"I'll take just a quart," which he did and now he is.

Well, he isn't dead yet. Mike Girvin, the filling station attendant, was fearful of a suicide attempt and called the police.

Two policemen overtook the man. Wiping off his mouth he explained: "It's the best remedy in the world for a cold."

It's no crime in Indiana to drink gasoline so the officers went their way and the cold sufferer went his.

Rheumatism Goes Swollen Joints Vanish

PAIN EASED FIRST DAY

If you suffer from crippling rheumatic aches and pains, Neuritis, Lumbago, lame knotted muscles, swollen inflamed joints, it's because your system is full of the irritating poisons that cause rheumatism.

What you need is RUMMA, the new internal medicine that acts on the blood, liver and kidneys, and helps expel these dangerous poisons from the system through the natural channels of elimination. Only an internal medicine can do this.

No long waiting for your suffering to stop—RUMMA cures pain first day and gives rheumatic sufferers such safe and lasting relief from their stiffening, crippling lameness and torturing pain that it is recommended by druggists everywhere. Merck Drug Stores urge every sufferer to get a $1.00 bottle of RUMMA today, and agree to return the purchase price if it does not free them from all their aches and pains of rheumatism.

A Thanksgiving homecoming was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Ervay of Traver Hollow.

The guests gathering about the sumptuous table of feasting, with home-grown turkey heading the menu, were their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ervay, and grandsons, Frank, together with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mooney, all of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepard Bell of Main street, lifelong friends of the family, also were included with the group.

Among Thanksgiving guests at the Traver Hollow inn were the Hon. Joseph Snyder and mother, Mrs. Ida Snyder, of Brooklyn, also the daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Switzer, of Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bell returned from Brooklyn Wednesday afternoon, where they attended the funeral of her brother, Lester Correll, which was held Monday evening.

Their host of friends most heartily congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Elton Oakley of Olive Bridge, who are the proud parents of a recent arrival which took place in the Benedictine Hospital. Mother and babe are reported doing nicely.

Leroy Davis, widely known farmer and cattle dealer of Olive Bridge, was among the Olive residents having business transactions in Kingston.

Sonny Lyons, son of Supervisor and Mrs. Chester Lyons, of Ashokan, spent Friday with his little friend, Harry Marshall, of Olive Bridge.

"Simply Delicious" is the expressed sentiment of everyone who attended the Odd Fellows annual oyster supper held Thanksgiving Eve in Olive Bridge Hall. There is one thing certain sure, Chef Virgil Gordon and Oscar Dudley have the making of oyster stew right down to a science.

Freeman Avery of Watson Hollow enjoyed the Thanksgiving feast with members of the family group at Maple Dell Farm.

Report is that Albert Coddington, proprietor of the local milk hauling route, who is a patient in the Benedictine Hospital, is not much improved as yet. Mrs. Coddington also is ill at her home near Pataunkunk but is showing improvement. She is being cared for by Mrs. Jerry Van Kleef as nurse.

This is getting along to the fall-end run of elder making, however late made up cider berries make just the best juice ever, having molasses like consistency, and deliciously flavored. Just the ticket for bang-up having cider.

There will be no season of the Ladies' Aid this week as work has not been completed on the quilt. "The Flower Pot," which is set up at the home of Mrs. Erastus North. The ladies of the Bushkill section have offered to finish the quilt at the church. This will also be the annual business meeting when officers for the ensuing year are to be chosen.

With the resuming of school today after the Thanksgiving vacation the attention of the teacher and pupils will be turned toward activities for Christmas.

How time flies, it hardly seems possible that the holidays are but just a few weeks ahead.

"Uncle" Jake Crispell of Shokan, about turning ninety, spent an enjoyable Thanksgiving although the light of day has long since faded from his eyes. "Uncle" Jake gets quite a kick out of listening to the radio.

Paul C. James of Shokan, well-known truckman and farmer, motored around the west side during the sunny part of the day on Sunday.

Charles H. Weldner, business trustee of District No. 8, acting without delay with authority vested in him at the recent special school meeting, already has the schoolhouse fixtures installed and electric lights available at the turn of a switch. This is certainly a worthwhile improvement keeping in line with progress of the day.

Charles Zipper Dwyer, popular Department of Water Supply employee and all around mechanic, now has running water and a cellar heater installed in his new residence at Dwyer's corner. With these necessities added to electric lights, home Dwyer has a mighty cozy little home in which his father and mother may find comfort in their declining years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Palen of Broadhead were Kingston visitors on Saturday evening.

Mike Hughes of Broadhead is putting up winter firewood back in swamp timber lot.

Cards being received from Mr. and Mrs. Myron Teller indicate that they are on their return trip from California.

The sorcerers at Brown Station have been shut off for the winter, which detracts much from the scenic beauty which visitors from far and near have enjoyed during the warm months.

Mrs. John Thompson of Main street returned home Saturday, having completed her engagement at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martha Gilmac at Ashokan.

WEST SHOKAN.

West Shokan, Nov. 28.—Despite the chilly atmosphere on Sunday, there was a good attendance at the community Sunday school session. The adult class was efficiently conducted by the superintendent, Mrs. John Thompson. The opening hymns were, "Take the Name of Jesus With You" and "Sweeter Every Day". The lesson topic proved a very interesting one, "Stewardship of Life". The golden text was, "They first gave their own selves to the Lord", 2 cor. 8:5. The final musical selection was, "If Jesus Goes With Me". Next Sunday's topic will be, "Living With People of Other Races".

Everyone is glad to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Shepard Bell of Main street are feeling much improved after their recent illness. After Sunday school services on Sunday afternoon, a number of members of the Sunday school called upon them. The group consisted of Mrs. John Thompson and daughter, Louise, Mrs. James Burgher, Mrs. Edward Avery and Miss Marian Davis.

Thanksgiving the great day of feasting, passed quietly here. The day was sunny and pleasant, having a feeling of April rather than late November, while a slight haze seemed to remind that a spell of belated Indian summer might still lie in the offing.

On Saturday evening, the regular monthly meeting of the Town Board was held in the town clerk's office in Olive Bridge. All the members were present.

The Misses Helen, Alice and Theresa Winkler spent Thanksgiving Day with their grandfather and brother, Eddie, at their farm adjoining Main street.

Several of the members of Shokan Lodge, I. O. O. F., were among Olive residents who attended the funeral of Otis Krum Sunday afternoon at Rosendale. The deceased was a brother of Ephraim Krum of Krumville, and had many friends among the old home circle in South Shokan by whom he was held in the highest regard.

Harold Davis accomplished quite a bit of odd ploughing last week with the old gray and side-hill outfit. Fall ploughed ground sort of gives a farmer the jump on things when spring and hot days roll around, that just naturally take the luck out of unhardened man and beast. Although it may be necessary to cross plough before planting in order to break up quack grass a bit where fields are so infested, this may be done quite readily and pays a good dividend in heavier crop yields.

Post Thanksgiving Kingston visitors note that with the holiday over, stores are already sprouting Christmas greens which soon will blossom forth bedecked in gold and tinsel, radiant with Yuletide cheer.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Donahoe of Krumville were Thanksgiving afternoon callers at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Boice, of Watson Hollow.

Sam Cassalia of Broadhead visited his friend, Rev. Bishop, on Sunday before he returned to Hobart.

LAKESIDE 4-H PURITAN

CLUB MET ON FRIDAY

The regular meeting of the Lake Side 4-H Puritan Club was held Friday evening, November 25, at the Orange Hall. It was called to order by the president, Sarah Boice. The secretary called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting. The girls decided to dress dolls for poor children for Christmas. Each member brought her drawing of her room and explained it in detail. Marjorie Morehouse on behalf of the other members of the club presented a book to Sarah Boice to take with her on her trip to Chicago, as New York State's Healthiest Girl. Following the adjournment, delicious refreshments were served by the local leader. After this, games were played led by Marv Whitaker.

He Fled Not Guilty

William Wilson, 46, of West Hurley, was arrested Monday night on Washington avenue, near Hurley avenue, on a charge of public intoxication. This morning in police court before Judge Charles de la Vergne he entered a plea of not guilty and the hearing was adjourned to December 1. He furnished $25 cash bail for his appearance in court at that time.

Statenberg-Wilber.

Anthony E. Statenburg of Monticello, N. Y., and Hazel M. Wilber of Woodstock were married at the Woodstock Methodist parsonage, November 22. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. R. Peckham.

Olympian Club

The Olympian Club met with Miss Florence Finn on Monday evening. An exceptionally interesting paper on "Industrial Developments of the Seventeenth Century" was given by Miss Frieda Hayes. Following the evening's program the hostess served refreshments and a social hour was enjoyed. Miss Claire Osterlander will be the hostess at the next club meeting when Mrs. Decker will have the paper on "Manners and Customs of the Seventeenth Century."

Former Milton Woman Married

New York, Nov. 28 (Special).—Miss Marie Kathleen Matarazzo, 27, a former resident of Milton, N. Y., now of 204 West Tenth street, New York, and Henry Martucci, 27, of 1605 East Main street, Bridgeport, Conn., were married here this afternoon immediately after obtaining a license at the Municipal Building. Deputy City Clerk John J. McCormick officiated at the ceremony which took place in the City Chapel. The bride, who was born in Milton, is the daughter of Charles and Mary Matarazzo. Mr. Martucci, the son of Raffaele and Eliza Martucci, was born in Bridgeport.

25th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Fowler of New York city celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on Saturday evening, November 26, at the home of Mrs. Fowler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard D. Washburn, in Slightsburgh. The ushers were Harry Fowler, Russell Fowler, John Fowler, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fowler, and Hugh Foster of New York city. Supper was served in a beautifully appointed and decorated dining room at eleven o'clock. The decorations were in white and silver, the flowers being white carnations. The favors were little silver baskets decorated with orange blossoms. There were 26 guests present from New York city, Hampton, N. Y., Slightsburgh and Kingston.

Given a Shower

Kerkonkson, Nov. 29—Miss Eunice Van Etten was given a shower at the home of Mrs. George Blyou on Saturday evening. Miss Van Etten received many beautiful presents from her friends. Those present at the shower were: Mrs. Lacey Smith of Wawarsing, Mrs. John McClay of Wawarsing, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Burgher of Kingston, Miss Ruth Murray, Miss Margaret Doyle, Jennie Doyle, Evelyn Baker, Mrs. Milton Lane, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Maude Dunn, Mrs. Osborne, Mrs. James Addis, Mrs. Claude Terwilliger, Mrs. Harold Greene, Mrs. William Addis, Mrs. Margaret Van Etten, Mrs. Katie Schoonmaker, Mrs. Fannie Van Etten, Miss Ida Mae Whitaker, Mrs. Harry Burgher and Mrs. Ben Markle. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Blyou and Mrs. Harry Burgher. Miss Van Etten expects to be married soon and will make her home in Saratoga Springs. She has the best wishes of all her friends for a long and happy married life.

Upright-Keller

Walker Valley, Nov. 29—The wedding of Roy C. Upright of Pine Bush to Edythe M. Keller of Walker Valley was solemnized in the Walker Valley M. E. Church on Thanksgiving Day at 2:30 p. m. by the Rev. R. T. Edwards. The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by Miss Edith Hauser of Walker Valley as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. J. Lippert of Lyndhurst, N. J., and Mrs. Joseph Kelly of Pine Bush. Dean Rockwell of Pine Bush was best man. The ushers were Earl Upright, brother of the groom, and Walter Murray of Pine Bush. The bride was handsomely gowned in white satin and angel skin lace. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor wore a gown of maize color rough crepe satin with brown velvet sash-turban. She carried bronze chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids wore brown transparent velvet gowns and cloth of gold turbans. They carried yellow chrysanthemums. The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. C. T. Keller, Jr., of Oceanide sang a solo, "I Love You Truly." A reception was held in the church hall, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion. After an extended trip south, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Upright will make their home on Kelly avenue, Pine Bush, where they will live in a beautifully furnished bungalow. They were the recipients of many useful and valuable presents.

"HUNGER MARCHERS" ON WAY TO NEW YORK CITY

Beacon, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP).—New York's "hunger marchers" after a night in a communist camp near here resumed their journey to Washington today, intending to stop at Peekskill before going into New York city.

The delegation from the Capital district, consisting of 26 persons, including one woman, stopped in the downtown section and for 15 minutes members harangued a crowd of 200. There was no disorder and no further demonstration.

Over 20 in Choral Club.

When the Orphans' Choral Club comes to the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church on Wednesday evening it will consist of over 70 of the town's trained singers from the towns of Hunter, Jewett, Ashland and Windham. The club has been under the direction of Roland E. Heermance for the past two years. The admission is free and everyone is welcome to attend the concert.

Mrs. Phelps Tea Room will close December 1. Anyone desiring to entertain at luncheon, dinner, afternoon tea and card parties during the winter months may phone Sangerites 229.

ACTIVITIES AT DOWNTOWN JEWISH COMMUNITY CENTER.

Dr. Philip L. Goldstein of New York city will deliver an interesting address Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Jewish Community Center. The supper group of the Center will hold its first supper that evening from 6 to 6:30 o'clock, and Dr. Goldstein will address the group. The program of entertainment given at the recent installation of officers was a most enjoyable one. Among the artists taking part were Michael Amarillo, Cashia's Revue, Prof. Brandt, Thomas Crosby, Far Alprin of Newburgh, Herm. Lou and Herb. of Poughkeepsie, Florence Kalfow, sky, Robert Harkley, Kenneth Riel and Miss Lillian Handier. Music for dancing was furnished by Sammy Cohen and his Cyones.

ZINOVIEFF, FORMER SOVIET LEADER, SERIOUSLY ILL.

Moscow, Nov. 29 (AP).—Gregory S. Zinovieff, once one of the powers in the Soviet government but now exiled from the inner councils of the Communist party, was seriously ill today.

About a month ago Zinovieff, charged with conspiring against Joseph Stalin, the head of the Communist party, was permanently expelled from the organization. It was reported that a heart attack followed this expulsion, and he was treated at the Kremlin Hospital. There were reports earlier today that he had died but subsequently this was authoritatively denied.

BEAUTY SHOP WEARS INVITED TO MEET

All beauty parlor proprietors in Kingston are invited to attend the meeting to be held at the Mitchell House at 8 o'clock this evening, at which time an organization will be perfected.

There was an attendance of 15 at a meeting held last week, at which time preliminary steps were taken toward forming an organization. At the meeting tonight officers will be elected and steps taken toward adopting a set of by-laws.

NOVENA CONTINUES AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH

The Novena of Grace being held at St. Mary's Church will continue every evening with services at 8 o'clock until and including Saturday. Subject of this evening's sermon by the Rev. Charles Reilly, C. S. R., of Mt. St. Alphonsus, Esopus, is "The Path to Heaven."

Esopus Aid Supper.

The Ladies' Aid of Esopus Methodist Church will hold its annual fair at the church parlors on Wednesday evening, December 2. A turkey supper will be served from 5 p. m. until all have been served. One of the main attractions of the evening is a musical which will be held upstairs in the church.

D. of A. Card Party.

Vanderlyn Council, Daughters of America, will hold a card party at Mechanics Hall, 14 Henry street, tonight at 8 o'clock. The public is invited.

Liquor Policies

George W. Wickensham, who was chairman of President Hoover's commission on law enforcement, is quoted in an interview as acknowledging the "obvious failure" of prohibition, and making some further observations that should be of interest and value as Congress proceeds to change the government's liquor policy. "No law can be enforced," he remarks, "unless it is backed by strong public sentiment. The object of prohibition was to create temperate habits. This obviously has failed; and if it has, regulation must take its place." The tide of anti-prohibition feeling, as he sees it, has been largely caused by "the extreme character of prohibition legislation—

the Volstead Act—and the great intolerance of its promoters and the abandonment of efforts to persuade people to abstinence, and putting the entire reliance on the enforcement of the law."

This analysis is clear, and should help to guide Congress, and all groups that seek to exercise influence in Congress, as it proceeds to establish a new system of federal control.

It is evident that excesses must now be avoided. Neither extreme and uncompromising drys nor extreme and uncompromising wets can have their way, if the new plan is to succeed.

It must be tolerant, without undue flexity. It must be geared to suit the moderates—the middle-of-the-road people—and to persuade people to temperance rather than compel them.

Otherwise it cannot win the popular support necessary for success.

POSTAL RATES

The Envelope Manufacturers Association, talking things over in convention, thinks postal rates ought to be reduced. It is evident that the envelope manufacturers think present letter rates restrict their business. And doubtless it is true. People send fewer letters at three cents than two cents. It is especially true of business institutions. They make one letter do the work of two, or they deliver advertising circulars, monthly bills, etc., by their own carriers instead of using the postoffice.

A reduction of half a cent to a cent might bring the postoffice more revenue.

However that may be, the air mail rates are certainly too high. It costs eight cents for a letter up to one ounce, and 13 cents for every additional ounce or fraction, making 21 cents for an ounce and a half and 34 cents for two ounces and a half. The basic charge itself seems high; and if there is any logical explanation for the excess charge on more than one ounce, it has never been given to the public. Aviation men, who ought to know, say these rates are "out of line," and there would be far more air mail, and more profit in handling it, if the rates were lowered. It should be good for general business, too.

A large majority of the banks in the United States, according to Atlee

Pomeroy, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, "have done their full duty to their depositors and borrowers, and to the communities which they serve, all things considered." But he scathingly criticizes a powerful group of banks, estimated at 10 per cent of the whole number. These, he says, with assets at least three-fourths liquid, have refused to make loans to responsible persons and companies offering proper security. If it were not for the R. F. C., with its loan system, he adds, "the entire country would be at the mercy of such parasitic banks." There has been severe criticism on the part of bankers, throughout the depression, of private hoardings. And on the whole, it has probably been deserved. But what still be said of banks, whose business is lending money, that persist in hoarding it the business is sound and sound

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

"NOT UNDERSTOOD" AT HOME

SO MANY of the girls seem eager to explain at great length why they are misunderstood at home.

That is the remark of a prominent woman educator who sent to a large number of girls ranging in age from twelve to nineteen years a questionnaire on their personal problems and their attitude toward their parents.

"Not understood" at home? That seems an echo from a bygone age when the picture of a cloistered mother, stranger to her children's problems, and an irate father, hard narrow, and "old fashioned," indicated an impassable gap between the older and younger generations of the day.

But in the "modern" age, with mothers studying adolescent psychology before their children are out of the cradles, with child study groups and parent associations and magazines and books of parenthood and the science of raising their children, a square deal by learning to "understand" them—how strange that a large number of girls from intelligent homes should complain of lack of understanding.

In former generations parents expected their children to resemble them or at least to fulfill pre-cepted notions of what they wanted them to be. If they did not they were "black sheep" to be discussed only in hushed tones in the family circle. To day's parents, prepared for "modern youth," expect nothing more certain than surprises in their offspring—and they are surprised usually if their children do not surprise them! They expect problems; they have been prepared to expect them.

Therefore why this lack of understanding? The answer is to be found in the remarks of some girls that their parents were very busy with their own affairs.

What a pity then, in an age which offers to all parents the wherewithal in information and training to be companions and friends to their children, in a world that is ready and eager to equip those parents to be experts at their most vital of jobs, to equip them to earn their children's confidence and so assure their greatest safeguard—that in such an age all that should be wanted by their being too busy with other things!

Relative Advantages

"I'm half inclined," said Senator Sorghum, "to retire to private life and practice my profession."
 "You would not be so prominent,"
 "Yes. But a profession enables you to get paid when you know you're wrong instead of being criticized when you believe you're right."

Keeping

your boy or girl free from colds really isn't much of a problem. If your

Children

start each day with a breakfast of Heckers' Cream Farina, their chance of being

Healthy

will be greatly increased. On cold days a hot breakfast is vitally important.

Heckers'

Cream Farina provides a tasty, healthy hot

QUEER NAMES BORNE BY AMERICAN TOWNS

Homey Nouns and Adjectives Found on Map.

Washington—What's in a name?
 "First families have left their famous surnames to designate post offices and railroad stations in the United States," says a bulletin from the National Geographic society, and in addition many humble folk have contributed their more familiar appellations such as Iola, Elm, Nick, Tim, Floe, Vick and Maggie. Aside from family names the homey nouns and adjectives of the work-a-day world have found their way by the score to maps and signposts.

"Greasy Creek, Tub, Blacut, Cheap,
 Busy and Dimple are Kentucky towns.
 There is Horse Heaven, Humpnolls, Gooseprairie and Steepie in Washington state.

"The Town Duster, Gallip and High Rolls are in New Mexico; Jelly, Need-ies and Livers in California; and Sopchoppy, Perky and Frostproof in Florida.

"Illinois has Sandwich, Joy and Muddy, while across the state line in Indiana there is Sweet, Economy and Harmon. Trump, Vim, Flues and Joes are in Colorado; Rumble Bee, Sunbeam, Wilkoup and Cactus in Arizona; Asbestos, Ladiesburg, Fearer and Appeal in Maryland; and Dead Water, Gringstone, Thorofare and Merepoint in Maine.

Balticub and Shivers.
 "In Minnesota there is Balticub, Happylind, Outer Tail, Money Creek, Knife River and Embarrass; and in Mississippi, Arm, Lemon, Whynot, Chunky, Shivers and Snow.

"Montana's Bay Horse, Big Arm, Glitchee and Pray are equally as odd as North Carolina's Nags Head, Bearwallow, Pee Dee, Shoe, Toast, Topnot and Worry; and Missouri's Rat, Gann, Dangle, Clever and Enough.

"There is Accord, Teaticket and Feeding Hills in Massachusetts; Anvil Location, Inkster, Ahmeek and Honor to Michigan; Echo, Happy Jack and Water Proof in Louisiana; Leaky in North Dakota; and Novelty, Overpeak, Long Bottom and Charm in Ohio.

"Oklahoma's contribution to odd place names is Anders, Hominy, Slick, Slim and Scrapper; while Oregon has Wagontire, Sixes, Tyce, Icee and Fossil. New York state gives Horseheads, Sag Harbor, Silvernalls, Tap-hank and Whiteface; and New Jersey, Colt's Neck, Peapack, Tranquility, Changewater and Chews.

"Goodnight, Razor, Fort Spunky, Happy and Gunsight are towns in Texas; while Pennsylvania has Shickshinn, Showers, Moosic and Bird in Hand. Cowpens, Silverstreet, Nine Times and Ninety Six are in South Carolina; Faith, Tea and Twilight in South Dakota; Devil's Slide in Utah;
 and Idol, Inkpin, Littlecrab and Shop Spring in Tennessee.

Modest Town and Outlips.
 "Ferry passengers calling 'hey' to 'hi,' a ferryman, are said to have named Haval, Virginia. Other odd names in the Old Dominion are Modest Town, Cap, Crabbottom, Dandy, Smoky Ordinary, Traffic, Fancy Gap,
 Duty and Success; while its neighbor,
 West Virginia, has Joker, Cutlips, Smoke Hole, Dingy, Hazy, Odd, Pink and Quick. In Wisconsin there is Luck, New Diggings and Rib Lake; in Wyoming a Doggie, Badwater, Four Horse and Ten Sleep.

"What Cheer, Promise City, Coin, Nodaway, Stout and Wick are Iowa towns; Oad, Deepstep, Dewyrose and Ty Ty are in Georgia; Coccolalia, Cup-rum, Inkum and Nouns in Idaho; Coats, Peck and Forwin in Kansas; and Doughboy, Flats, Hire, Rescue and Wynot in Nebraska.

"Half a dozen of Arkansas' place names in a row sketch for the imaginative a thumb-nail story: Lost Corner, Reform, Health, Prosperity, Resistance and Love."

Free-Wheeling Cats Cast
 London—Fuel consumption is reduced 50 per cent in a British locomotive equipped with devices for coasting, or free wheeling. Total fuel and lubricating costs are said to be about 3 cents per mile.

Steady Increase in Employment Is Shown

Washington—While reports from many sources, including the American Federation of Labor, reveal a steady increase in employment in the United States, 16 nations in Europe also reveal conditions so much improved that observers generally believe that the depression will have definitely reached an end by spring. Employment has increased anywhere from 3 to 8 per cent since June in most countries. It is revealed.

In nine other countries of Europe, including England and Japan, unemployment figures show an increase, however. Nations which show improved conditions besides the United States, include Italy,
 Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia,

Winter Feeding

Use the grain and hay on hand for feeding this winter and sow barley, oats and vetch at the rate of 1½ bushels of oats, 1 bushel of barley, and 15 pounds of vetch to the acre. This will furnish a portion of the hay shortage, and a further seeding of barley will supply the grain. To supplement any shortage of oats it would be well to seed a few acres to spring oats for poultry and dairy needs.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 29. (P.)—Prices shifted moderately upward in another dull, listless trading session on the stock exchange today. The market pursued a zigzag course early in the day, but later firmed appreciably and entered the afternoon with most leading shares showing gains ranging from fractions to about a point. Rails were again in fair demand. After selling down a point at the opening, Union Pacific and Santa Fe erased their losses and moved a point higher on the day. Southern Pacific, New York Central and Pennsylvania were slightly improved.

U. S. Steel held steady in a narrow range, most of the time a slim fraction above Monday's close. Small gains also made by Westinghouse, General Electric, General Mo-

Revue at Broadway Pleases Audience

Country Club Scandals opened at the Broadway Theatre Monday for the first three days of this week with a varied program of songs, dances and other features that pleased the audience, judging from the way that the offerings were received.

Raymond Wilbur, star of the show, did some clever shots with golf balls, living up to his name as the "comedy golf genius." He also acted as master of ceremonies and afforded the audience plenty of laughs with his witty lines. Miss Elvira Sessions, as comedienne, also provoked much mirth.

Other featured performers are Marilyn Keller, acrobatic dancer; Edith Mann, the dancer; Dorothy and Clayton Westworth, who sing and dance, and Norman and Julie, acrobats.

A youthful chorus of pretty girls tops the program with a number of clever ensembles. Accompaniment is furnished by Tommy Evans and his Melody Boys. They do several feature numbers. In conjunction with the stage show there is the screen presentation "Almost Married."

Seek Bank Robbers.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 29 (P).—A county-wide net of radio-equipped police automobiles was thrown about this city today to intercept the escape of four men who held up a branch of the Lincoln-Alliance Bank shortly after noon and fled with $3,000 in cash after firing several shots to intimidate employees and customers in the bank. It was the first bank robbery in the history of Rochester.

and Standard of New Jersey. United Aircraft, American Telephone, Case, National Electric, and Coca Cola gained as much as a point. International Business Machines was a soft spot, declining about 4 points at one time, but later recovering half of its loss. The company's directors declared a quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share, but made no distribution in the form of stock dividend last year at this time a dividend of 5 per cent in stock was declared.

Market analysts stressed the relative steadiness of railroad stocks throughout the recent period of backing and filling. The improved undertone of this group was attributed not only to the manifest improvement in net earnings resulting from the autumn trade gain, but also to the fact that the non-partisan Coalge transportation committee may recommend legislation of a helpful nature for action at the coming session of congress.

There was considerable conjecture over the new International Copper conference. It was freely predicted in the trade that much time would elapse before an agreement could be reached by the conflicting interests on the conference's two principal points: curtailment of production and orderly marketing of surplus supplies. Nevertheless, hope was expressed in some quarters that concrete results might shape themselves after a series of secret meetings.

Trade reports contributed little by way of change to the picture of seasonally declining business. The recent weakening of crude oil prices in western oil fields was followed by reports that gasoline prices were easing somewhat in the Pacific northwest, but elsewhere no important price changes were revealed.

A. P. Kaplan Elected Head of Egg Auction

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Mid-Hudson Egg Auction on Monday, A. P. Kaplan of Accord was chosen as president of the auction. The vacancy was created when E. L. Plass of Poughkeepsie resigned, due to the fact that he is now employed as auctioneer by the G. L. F. Marketing Corporation.

The directors met following a meeting of the auction membership at the Court House. Over 50 poultrymen, mostly from Ulster county, were in attendance. Columbia county was represented by two and Dutchess county by four. Several very important matters were discussed and acted upon.

In the original regulations there was to be a reduction in the selling charge on the auction of from 45 to 35 cents per case, when the volume handled on the auction reached 500 cases per week. The members voted to continue the 45 cents handling charge indefinitely and turn the 10 cents per case over to the association treasurer for advertising and other purposes, to be expended at the discretion of the directors. It was also voted to make application to have the name "Hudson Valley Eggs" copyrighted, so as to apply only to eggs sold on the auction.

The volume of eggs handled on the auction has been increasing steadily and from all indications it will exceed 350 cases during the current week. Over 200 cases were sold on the auction today.

Big Grain Supply for Feed Purposes

Production Over Average, Official Report.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture. Feed grain production is 13 per cent larger than last season's and about 7 per cent more than average production, says the bureau of agricultural economics in a report on the feed outlook. Large supplies of wheat are reported available also for feed purposes. Prospective demand for feed grains and for by-product commercial feeds will be about the same as that of last year, it is expected. The prospective demand is gauged on the basis of a down trend in numbers of horses and mules, an increase in the number of dairy and beef cattle on farms this year, increased feeding of cattle, a reduction of about 7 per cent in the 1932 spring pig crop, a decrease of 8 per cent in the 1932 lamb crop, and a decrease in the number of hens and pullets in farm flocks.

The bureau says that "the low level of income from this year's crops and feeding operations, and liberal supplies of relatively cheap feed grains and wheat, limit the demand for straight and commercial mixed feeds. Gross income from cash crops continues at a low level, with supplies large, and returns from live stock and live stock products may be somewhat less than a year ago. Available credit supplies to finance live stock feeding operations the coming year, however, will probably be larger than during last year."

How to Protect Sheep From Stomach Worms

Lambs that remain small and unthrifty at the close of the pasture season very likely are infested with stomach worms, and could be greatly helped by drenching them with a solution of blue stone or copper sulphate, advises W. E. Morris, extension live stock specialist, Minnesota University farm. There is no reason, he says, for any sheep man to become discouraged if stomach worms appear. These parasites may be expected in any flock, he says, and losses are almost inevitable unless proper control measures are carried out.

In general, stomach worms may be controlled by the regular yearly rotation of pastures and by frequent drenching. Drenching is very inexpensive; the copper sulphate necessary costs only a few cents for an ordinary-sized flock. On farms where sheep are severely infested with stomach worms, the breeding flock should be drenched before going into winter quarters and again before being turned on pasture. The whole operation is very simple. Full directions for mixing the copper sulphate, measuring the dosage, and drenching the animal may be had free from county agents, or by writing the agricultural extension division, University farm, St. Paul.

Careless Potato Digging

A survey of more than a hundred New York state potato fields last year showed that a 12 per cent average was made up of 7 per cent of the potatoes bruised in digging, 3 per cent skinned, and 2 per cent cut. One farmer's damage was as much as 48 per cent, or nearly half his crop. Such injury can be laid to faults in adjustment of the digging machine, to lack of the proper degree of power on the digger, and to improper operation.

Butterfly Variations

Size, form and color of butterflies are strongly affected by time or place of birth. This finding has been announced in a bulletin of the Smithsonian Institution, based on an extensive study by Austin H. Clark of the butterfly life of the Middle Atlantic states. Clark found that several species common in this part of the country have two or more broods a year—one emerging from the pupae in early spring, a second in midsummer, and possibly a third in summer. The individuals of these broods differ so strikingly that only an expert would recognize some of them as belonging to the same species.

About the Folks

Mrs. S. Newitz is entertaining her sister from New York.

Mrs. Calvin Forst is confined to her home on Grove street by illness.

Mrs. Robert Baines and son Paul are week-end guests of relatives in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. George Lawrence is spending some time at the home of her sister at Springfield, Mass.

Larry Smith was removed from 55 Green street to the Kingston Hospital in the ambulance on Monday afternoon.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Teale of 225 Third avenue. Mother and son are under the care of Dr. Dowd S. Meyers.

Miss Dorothy Van Aken and friend, Lester Locke, spent the week-end in New York city visiting relatives and friends.

Everett Vignes of Brewster, N. Y., spent Thanksgiving and the week-end with his mother on West Chester street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ackerman and children Margie and DeWitt spent Thanksgiving at the home of George Lawrence at Lincoln Park.

Miss Beatrice Kothe of Long Island and Beulah Terwilliger of Washington were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kothe at Lincoln Park over the week-end.

Mrs. Anna G. Baker of Saugerties and Miss Alice Van Aken of 53 Smith avenue, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fordyce Meyer, Echo Lodge, Saugerties.

Mrs. Almee V. Samuel, who has been in New York the past two weeks, will resume her business duties here at her office in the United Cigar building on Wednesday, November 30.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Beckwith and Virginia and Albert Beckwith of Gloversville spent the Thanksgiving vacation with the Misses Jane and Ethel Mauterstock, of Hone street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Buck of Yoamans street are receiving congratulations over the birth of a daughter, Marjorie, at the Kingston Hospital on November 23. Mother and daughter are doing nicely under the care of Dr. J. Lehner.

Winter Bouquets To Be Demonstrated

Colorful homes is the general theme of a demonstration to be given Thursday, when Miss Lucille Smith, specialist in floriculture, from the State College of Home Economics, at Ithaca, will show the ladies of Kingston and Ulster county the arrangement of winter bouquets. The meeting will be held in the Home Service Department of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, 611 Broadway, beginning at 2 p. m.

There is much native material in Ulster county that can be used by homemakers to make their homes more cheerful and colorful through the winter months, and Miss Smith will show how beautiful winter bouquets can be made, using weeds, seed pods and other native materials. Much depends upon arrangement to bring out design and color, and that will be demonstrated by Miss Smith. The ladies of Ulster county will remember Miss Smith for the artistic work she did in the county last year on the subject of "Christmas Decorations." Flower arrangements for winter is one to prove just as interesting and valuable, and a large group is expected to see the demonstration.

All ladies in the city and community are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

THREE ARRESTS MADE BY FEDERAL AGENTS

Mike Fabrizio was arrested at 246 Foxhall avenue, Kingston, Monday, by investigators from the Kingston prohibition office, who seized alleged wine and home brew. He was arraigned before Commissioner Connolly this morning and held in $1,000 bail for district court on a charge of possession and sale.

At Honig's dry goods store, Stottsville, Samuel Honig was arrested, charged with possession and sale and alleged apple whiskey, gin, home brew and hard cider seized. Before Commissioner Connolly this morning he waived examination and was held for district court in $1,000 bail.

Nicholas Arvanetos was arrested at 27 Catharine street, Poughkeepsie, and held for arraignment before Commissioner Platt on a charge of possession and sale. Alleged whiskey and beer were seized.

Our Growing Population

The following births have been reported to the Board of Health:

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wojcikowski of 225 Third avenue, a son, John Joseph.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Redmond of 28 Summer street, a son, Bernard Gabriel, at Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Shultz of 192 Pine street, a daughter, Janet, at Benedictine Hospital.

Judge J. L. Cheney Dead

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 29 (P).—Former State Supreme Court Justice Jerome L. Cheney, 69, who resigned on June 26, 1931, because of illness due to a heart ailment of several years continuance, died today of that disease in the Hospital of the Good Shepherd. He was one of three of the state's active 33rd Degree Masons.

Hebrew-Americans Win From Catskill

Although it came here with a splendid reputation and a brand of teamwork that has spelled defeat for some good teams, the Catskill A. C. formerly the high school variety of the Greene county village, succumbed to the Hebrew-Americans at the Downtown Jewish Community Center, Monday night, 30-27.

Leading the offensive for the Hebrews was O. Basch, right forward, who got away from two guards, Dunn and Townsend, who divided the task of trying to stop him, for 15 points. M. Bahl, his mate in the fore court, cleaned six markers as did M. Basch, playing right guard.

Roe and Sarro did the best shooting for the visitors by shaking up eight and seven points respectively.

Preliminary to the brilliant feat, the Hebrew-Americans girls tured out the Cline All Stars, 14-12. H. Kline tallied eight points for the victors, R. Cline four for the All Stars.

FULLY AUTOMATIC HEAT

... Hot water, too ...

... more convenient than electric light!

Lights have to be switched on and off, but this new automatic marvel turns on and off by itself. The Arco-Petro, new joint production of American Radiator and Petro-Nokol, is the last word in home heating.

It is boiler and burner built as one. A compact handsome unit finished in beautiful pastel shades. Delivered all ready to be hooked up to your present piping. Provides all the hot water you will ever use, winter and summer.

Breaks all records for low fuel consumption. Hundreds of enthusiastic users from all parts of the country report savings of 1/2 to 3/4. Initial cost is so low that these savings often are enough to cover it. Come in and see it. Let us give you more details.

Fable of Leroy's Nifty Exhibit

By GEORGE ADE

ONCE there was a jovial Wight named Leroy Gadshie and when he left Paluka to seek a Laurel Wreath and a Wheelbarrow full of Jack in the seedling Metropolis, the Weekly Exhibitor spoke truly when it said that the Best Wishes of the community went with the respected young Townsman. He was to the half-portion City known as Paluka what the pale-faced Prince is to the British Isles, viz., the Double Coronation of the Boccational Section. He was the blue-eyed Son of Destiny, the chief Ring-Tailer and Lord Noma. Some Backs!

In addition to having a Social Status so elevated that he was Miles and Miles above the common or sport-shirt variety of Slicker who clogged up the Pool Rooms, he had earned the outspoken regard of the Miami Element because he was a Demon on Second Base and had hung up a bloody Record as Hall Back.

Sometimes you find a Lad who has Money, Looks, Horse-Power, Polite Manners, Sand, Gumption, and open-faced Democracy, all mixed together to make him King of the Works. Leroy was husky, amiable, accommodating and snively masterful. No one in Paluka felt like kidding him about the Spats and the Walking Stick. The Boy who can knock off Blocks has a Right to wear Anything that suits his idle Fancy. One who is curly-headed and has the Biceps with which to overturn an Ox can do no Wrong, or, if he does, he can get away with it.

Long before he escaped to the larger Opportunities of the Big Burg, every Tease around the Place was ready to be overpowered by his Brute Strength, but he played no Favorites.

The Latest Model.

Word came that he was thriving in his new Environment and finally arrived the Cards telling that Beatrice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Wetherby was the Lucky Girl, with the Ceremony at the Church and a Reception at the Home of the Bride's Parents.

There was Grape hanging from many a Chandelier after the sad Tidings had been circulated. Everyone hoped for the Best but just knew that she wasn't good enough for Leroy. He had the Makings of a swell Husband and it would be Tough Luck if he drew a Blank. Some of those that had been grown in Paluka certainly seemed good enough, even for a Gadshie, and so there was a general, not to say aching, Curiosity to get a Peek at the Goddess who was so much superior to the home-grown Article.

When Leroy brought his 1932 Model Bride out to Paluka so as to get her used to his Relatives, it was not known to Beatrice that she was about to be put under the Microscope and given the Acid Test. If she had been wise to the Situation, she would have known that in order to make good she would have to be a peerless Combination of Cleopatra, the Venus de Milo, Queen Marie of Rumania, Elsie Janis and Mary Roberts Rinehart. She had to have Everything and, even then, maybe she couldn't put it over and make the Grade.

They saw her first at a Reception given by Pa and Ma Gadshie in the Ancestral Palace with the Cupola on top of it. She was superbly with the general Lines of a Racer. She seemed laid out for Speed rather than Endurance. She had the usual number of Eyes and her Bobbing undoubtedly had been done in a Beauty Shop instead of the Gem Tensorial Parlors and her up-and-down Prock was figured with Gold, so that even the most hard-boiled Critics would not discover many flaws in the Tost Ensemble.

In the Old Days.

Nevertheless, practically every Female Member of the Smart Set of Paluka said, after getting a Flash at Beatrice, "Well, I'll declare!"

It is almost impossible to indicate in cold Type just how they said it. There was more or less Emphasis on "declare" but the second Word was not neglected and there was, also, quite a bit of Stress on the "Well." The manner in which they ejaculated "Well, I'll declare!" seemed to indicate that they were surprised to discover that Leroy had married a fair-sized Moral of the Genius Flapper instead of an Angel with a Halo encircling her Head and two fully developed Wings sticking out behind.

What helped to complicate and embarrass the Situation from the very Start was the Fact that nearly all of the Men seemed to cotton to her and gave her the roll-in Eye and the prolonged Hand Clasp. They seemed to think that she was fully up to Plans and Specifications, whereas the Women Folks all began to Yea-Bul. They said her Clothes had been picked out by an Expert but they didn't think that she, herself, was anything to rave about. When they all said the same Thing they figured that they must be right.

Mrs. Pilkins seemed to voice the Commonsense when she said that Mrs. Gadshie had a certain doll-like Beauty and a kind of Self-Assurance which gave the Impression of Poise but her Face somehow seemed lacking in Character, possibly because she had a Weak Mouth.

Undoubtedly Cain's Wife told Cain that she would try to get along with Abel's Wife and would even return Cakes and exchange Dress Patterns, but she never could trust to the artwork of a Woman who had such a Weak Mouth.

All Old Stuff.

When Elizabeth was told that Mary Queen of Scots had been duly executed at the Tower, she said: "It is too bad that I had to have her Head cut off but I knew she would start something, sooner or later. She was a Woman who could not be depended upon. She had a Weak Mouth.

It may be explained that a Weak Mouth is the kind possessed by any Person who is shy on Popularity with the Party of the Second Part.

Beatrice might have overcome the awful Handicap if she had known that she was in Dutch and that the Cards had been stacked against her. She thought she would be the real Wow in the Home Town just because Leroy was Ace High. She seemed to think it was her Cue to gush over the simple Villagers and let them understand that she didn't think she was any classier than they were, even if she was a high-class Pippin from the Avenue while they were a lot of well-footed Hicks. The more she gurgled, the more she gurgled up the Program.

She said she loved Paluka because it was such a quaint old Place with such a simple Background and so many droll Characters. This, to the Residents of a Municipality which was black in the Face from trying to be busy and bustling and modern and up-to-date. Nothing that Beatrice said about Paluka could have been used in a Folder issued by the Chamber of Commerce.

She seemed to regard Paluka as a Page out of "The Old Homestead" or "Way Down East," while the Residents flattered themselves that London, Paris and New York City didn't have much of an Edge on them, coming right down to it.

It wasn't because she smoked Cork Tips or was willing to fly at Anything which came out of a Shaker. All of the local Janies under the age of 60 were trying to be True Sports of the Country Club Variety.

Where she grabbed Herself was in being surprised to learn that the untutored Yokels already knew about the Devices of Satan and didn't have to take lessons. She took particular Pains to show the Country Yaps an Improper Dance Step which they had completely worn out about Two Months previously.

She was a Nice Girl and her Heart was in the Right Place but after she had patronized the Small Towners for Three Days, registering Surprise whenever it became evident that they knew something besides Hay-Stacks and Pumpkins, one of the Men who had liked her at first stepped out in front and said he would be One of the Five to act as a Committee on Tar and Feathers. There was no less than 15 Volunteers.

MORAL: Never marry anyone who came from Somewhere Else.

Individual Sole Master of His Worldly Fate

It is a strange philosophy which seeks its course and fate in the portents of the stars, or in the lines upon the hand. No trait of human life shows as clearly how tardy and tedious our progress from the superstitions and omens of the barbarians. The ancient Greeks and Romans, and their Phoenician predecessors, always consulted the oracles before a battle or other epochal event, and fatuously believed that the outcome was pre-arranged in the flight of a bird, or the color of a cloud.

We, in these days, could far better mold our destiny and achieve our ends were we to employ the time and money spent in the cell of some astrologer, phrenologist or palmist in constructive, earnest effort for the task or duty of life immediately before us. The greatest of English poets has most wisely said that our fate lies not in our stars but in ourselves. What a world of truth there is in that brief epigram!—Exchange.

Razor Has Lasted Long

When razors were weapons and not bores, an ancestor of Oliver Bolland, age seventy-two, Berlin (Mich.) farmer, bought one made of Damascus steel with a bone handle. That was 200 years ago. Since then the razor has been in daily use in the Bolland family, being handed down from father to son, the present owner having obtained it when he was nineteen years old. Constant honing has worn off the maker's name and the handle is no thicker than a piece of cardboard, but Bolland asserts the razor has still another century of service left.

Historic Trees

The trees on the front terrace of Carvel hall at Annapolis, Md., are between 250 and 300 years old. They are Alnus trees, the Chinese tree of heaven. No one seems to know how they happened to be planted on the front terrace of Carvel hall. They were brought from China in a sailing ship considerably over 200 years ago. The house in front of which they stand is the Prince George street entrance of Carvel hall hotel. It was built in 1784 by William Paca, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence and the third governor of Maryland.—Exchange.

Our Atmosphere

I know of no more encouraging fact than the unquestionable ability of man to elevate his life by a conscious endeavor. It is something to be able to paint a particular picture or to carve a statue, and so to make a few objects beautiful; but it is far more glorious to carve and paint the very atmosphere and medium through which we live, which morally we can do.—Thoreau.

Crowd Sees Barrow Defeat Arthur in Feature of Fine Card

A capacity crowd, that took advantage of the reduction in prices, on Monday night at the Elks' Club saw the benefit boxing show which was one of the best amateur cards held here in some time. From the opening three rounds between two bantamweights until the final gong ended the heavyweight feature bout there was plenty of action and thrills.

Willie Barrow, 172-pound Poughkeepsie negro, took the decision in the main go from Sid Arthur, pudgy little black man from Brooklyn who weighed one pound more than his rival. After dropping the lead to Arthur in the first two rounds, Barrow changed his style of attack from right to left-handed punching in the third session and from then on was master of the task.

A barrage of lefts to the stomach wore Arthur down in the third, preparing him for a knock-down in the fourth. He went down for the count of nine near the end of the frame, got up and was floored again but the bell saved him. He was revived by his seconds but came out for the fifth and sixth only to lose the rounds to Barrow who had plenty of opportunity to put him away for the count but evidently lacked the strength.

The torrid scrap between the two contradicted the adage that two colored men never make a good fight. Both showed plenty of plinger, especially Arthur who had to try for openings in getting past the long reach that Barrow had on him. The Poughkeepsie battler was tall and rangy, while his opponent was short and muscular, being able to punch quite hard as was demonstrated by several stiff rights that he landed on Barrow's mid-section.

Unversack Victorious

In the semi-final six rounder Adam Unversack, Ellenville welterweight, evened the score with Joe Pincus, Kingston scrapper, by getting the decision over him. Pincus whipped Adam in a previous meeting and fought a draw with him before that. Now the pride of Jack Daley, Rosendale sportsman, who seconded him, is on a par with Joe by virtue of the way he conducted himself in the last two rounds of last night's scrap. After fighting it out on pretty even terms with Pincus for four rounds, Unversack did some superior boxing and heavier hitting in the closing sessions to win the decision. Both tipped the scales at 145.

Trouth Knocked Out
Jerry Trouth, the "Orpheum Slugger", who has quite an impressive knockout record to his credit, had the tables turned on him by Harry Porter, negro southpaw from Poughkeepsie, in the special six-round match. The knockout occurred in the third stanza. Jerry bounded out of his corner, hit Porter a hard right to the chin, reeling the negro into position for a powerful attack. He retaliated, driving Jerry to the ropes in a neutral corner. As Trouth bounded off of the heap Harry landed a right hook to his jaw that sprawled him for the count of 10, and then some. In the second round Trouth went down twice for counts.

Raymond-Levinaky Draw
Mickey Raymond, Flatbush pride, and Bat Levinaky, Poughkeepsie middleweight, fought a slashing draw in a four-frame encounter. The visiting battler had the best of the scrap at the outset, flooring Mickey for nine in the second round. After that the fight was pretty well balanced with Raymond opening a savage attack in the last session to offset Levinaky's lead.

Although "Doggie" Carpio of East Kingston put up a whirlwind fight with 116-pound Jackie Bailey, Brooklyn negro, in a quarter of rounds he lost the decision to the dusky little battler who landed most of the punches during the fray. However, Carpio got over some hard ones that hurt. The fight was the first in some time for the rugged little Italian who was admired for his stamina and aggressiveness.

George Wood, 144, a stablemate of Bailey, got the decision over Sam Popp of Poughkeepsie in another four rounder, punishing the Bridge City slugger plenty with dynamic left jabs and hooks to the head. He also doubled him several times with rights over the heart. Popp, however, was in the battle every second throwing punches whenever opportunity presented. The clever negro made him miss almost every time though. In the third round the crowd lost most of the admiration they had for Popp when he proceeded to hit Wood while he was partly out of the ring because the ropes were too loose and permitted his leg to slip below the floor of the squared circle.

The first bout on the card was a three rounder between Young Emerson of St. Remy, who weighed 116 and Spider Kelly of Flatbush, 112. It was a draw, showing plenty of action, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the fistie patrons.

Officials were: Bill Singer, referee; Lou Kantrowitz of Kingston and Andrew Andrews of Poughkeepsie, judges; Charlie Nettis, timer and Dewey Logan, announcer.

More Bouts December 5

The next card of scraps at the Elks will be Monday night, December 5, when Otis Paradise of Brooklyn is to meet a flashy amateur by the name of Tony White in the feature. Johnny Raymond, Flatbush middleweight, will trade leather with Kid George of Brooklyn.

Selection Of Two All-Eastern Teams By Sports Experts

By EDWARD J. NEU,
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Nov. 29 (AP).—Pittsburgh, Cornell, Army and Pennsylvania share top honors, each eleven contributing two men to the mythical all-eastern football team picked annually for the Associated Press today by sports writers.

One representative each from Columbia, Fordham and Colgate, the latter the sole undefeated, unscored upon team in the section, round out the first team.

Group honors for the second team went to Brown, with three nominees, but as a whole the choices for reserve eleven were more widely scattered. Columbia placed two men on the second team, Army, Cornell, Pittsburgh, Fordham, Yale and Villanova one each.

Apparently the severe injury of Dick King, Army's great end who suffered a broken leg in the Harvard game, alone kept the Cadets from placing three men on the first team. As it was King, rated almost unanimously by the experts as the greatest end in the country up to the time of his injury, trailed just far enough behind Joe Skladany, Pitt's burly wingman, and Jose Martinez-Zorrilla, the Mexican jumping jack of Cornell, to slip to the second team along with Tony Matal, fiery, red-headed end on the Columbia eleven that lost but one game, and that to Brown by a single point.

For the first time since the naming of all-eastern began, two brothers, Captain Bill Gilbane, at fullback, and Tom Gilbane at center, both of Brown, made the second team, along with Bob Chase, the Bruin quarterback.

The ballots of fifty sports writers chose the following All-Eastern eleven:

First Team.

Ends: Joseph Skladany, Pittsburgh; Jose Martinez-Zorrilla, Cornell.

Tackles: Howard Colehower, Pennsylvania; Walter Udehavis, Fordham.

Guards: Milton Summerfelt, Army; Robert Smith, Colgate.

Center: Roy Eagle, Pennsylvania. Quarterback: Clifford Montgomery, Columbia.

Halfbacks: Warren Heller, Pittsburgh; Felix Vidal, Army.

Fullback: Bart Viriano, Cornell.

Second Team.

Ends: Richard King, Army; Anthony Matal, Columbia.

Tackles: Abraham George, Cornell; Frank Walton, Pittsburgh.

Guards: Stephen Grenda, Columbia; Ralph Wolfendale, Fordham.

Center: Thomas Gilbane, Brown. Quarterback: Robert Chase, Brown.

Halfbacks: Robert Lassiter, Yale; George Randour, Villanova.

Fullback: William Gilbane, Brown.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

The All-American situation is subject to change without notice, and is a highly speculative sport at best, yet there is no question of the outstanding calibre of such players as these:

Ends—Moss of Purdue, Skladany of Pittsburgh, Palmer of Southern California, Matal of Columbia, Martinez-Zorrilla of Cornell and Williamson of Michigan.

Tackles—Smith and Brown of Southern California, Kurth and Krause of Notre Dame, Colehower of Pennsylvania, Hardy of Harvard, Armstrong of Army and Crawford of Duke.

Guards—Summerfelt of Army, Smith of Colgate, Corbus of Stanford, Gallus of Ohio State, Kabat of Wisconsin and Vaught of Texas Christian.

Centers—Ely of Nebraska, Gracey of Vanderbilt, Bernard of Michigan, Krueger of Marquette, Engle of Pennsylvania and Wilder of Columbia.

Quarterbacks—Newman of Michigan, Chase of Brown, Montgomery of Columbia, Griffith of Southern California and Vidal of Army.

Halfbacks—Zimmerman of Tulane, Heller and Sebastian of Pittsburgh, Purvis of Purdue, Hinchman of Ohio State, Feathers of Tennessee, Roberts of Vanderbilt, Hitchcock of Auburn, Oliver of Texas Christian and Sander of Washington.

Fullbacks—Horstman of Purdue, Manders of Minnesota, Viriano of Cornell, Brovelli of St. Mary's, Melnikovich of Notre Dame and Kay of Texas.

Injuries Remove Three.

Injuries have a habit of wrecking the All-American calculations of the dopesters, as well as the ballyhoo for the individual.

Dick King, Army's great left end, looked to be a sure thing for the all-star line-up until he cracked an ankle in the Harvard game, eliminating him from West Point's last three games.

Broken ribs removed a 1931 All-American back, Pug Rentner of Northwestern, from the late November picture.

Orville Mohler, Southern California's great quarterback, also was forced right out of the All-American running in mid-season by the doctor's orders.

Four Basic Formations

The four most common offensive formations in football, as outlined for the Athletic Journal by Glenn Thistlethwaite, are as follows:

1. Single wing-back or "Z" formation, usually with an unbalanced line.

2. Notre Dame formation with balanced line and shifted backfield.

3. Double wing-back formation, with balanced or unbalanced line.

4. Short kick formation, with ends close or split away.

The preponderance this year is with the wing-back or so-called Warner formations, especially in the East, where this system is the basis of the Army, Colgate, Pittsburgh and Brown offenses, with some variations. Purdue and Auburn follow the Notre Dame style of play. Michigan and Vanderbilt favor the kick formation, long a preference of Yost and his adherents.

Three Kingston Boys Make All-DUSO Eleven

At the conclusion of the DUSO League football season of the teams of the Hudson valley, fans anxiously await the announcements of the All-DUSO League teams by the various papers through the circuit. The sports writers of the Kingston Daily Freeman settled down immediately after the last game, weighed the records of players and the teams below—Army and second were the choice.

On the first eleven the Maroon is represented by three men. Starting at the top of the list appears the name of Zaccaro, Kingston's left guard, who played a most remarkable game all season. Many times Kingston was saved by "Zac" who got tackles from behind when men broke away on passes and runs. How he did it is hard to say, but it was one of the reasons why he gained the limelight and made the first eleven. He played a consistent game, always foremost on defense and offense.

Charlie Rabble was selected to spin the ball back. He was Kingston's great strength in the center of the line and of all the outstanding performances he gave, the game at Newburgh clinched the season. Rabble was a star then if there ever was one. Then behind the line stands James Cullum, captain of Kingston and quarterback, who was shifted into a halfback position. Cullum's great work throughout the season at hitting the line and handling the team won him this berth with the best. No doubt the Maroon pilot is one of the best bucking backs and blockers that the league has seen in some time. His consistency was one of great points in his favor.

Going back to the top of the list again, there is Orlando, Port Jervis's left end, who has been a first class player for the last two years. His ability at turning back end sweeps and his great accomplishments on the offense surpassed all the other ends. He could receive passes in almost any position and played havoc in the majority of games. The second choice from Port Jervis was Nolan. He has been gaining recognition all season but distinguished himself in the game Thanksgiving against Middletown. Nolan is a fine back of three years' experience.

From Newburgh Academy eleven, the winner of the DUSO League title, there are four men. In left tackle is Stanton Hemingway, the sensational lineman who was also selected last year in the first eleven. His great ability on defense and offense was a fear of every team that met the Yellow and Blue. He had his value added to when he dropped out of the line occasionally to carry the ball and gain eight or ten yards.

At right guard is Propert, the fast great blocking guard. He was a credit to the offense for his ability to leave the line and circle around to stop tackles, ends and halfbacks. He was seldom ironed out on defense.

Down at quarterback is Chumas, the greatly improved Yellow and Blue ball carrier. Last year he made both Kingston's and Newburgh's All-DUSO second team, and his development and record for this year puts him with the best. Chumas could run, pass and block equally as good.

The best player—all around—triple threat—was Stevens. He could kick 60 or 70 yards, pass 50 and run the length of the gridiron, if he got a chance at all. Stevens was the most colorful back in the league. He could thrill the stands like a Cagle.

From Middletown comes Mauro, a fine tackle of great work. Like Hemingway, his value was added to when he carried the ball. Mauro according to record was a greater hand at this than the Newburgh linemen. Relly, the right end of Middletown, who had been selected two years in succession, continued his fine work this fall. He captured the Middle.

The first and second team as selected by the sports writers of the paper:

L.E.—Orlando, Port Jervis.
L.T.—S. Hemingway, Newburgh.
L.G.—Zaccaro, Kingston.
C.—Rabble, Kingston.
R.G.—Phophe, Newburgh.
R.T.—Mauro, Middletown.
R.E.—Relly, Middletown.
Q.B.—Chumas, Newburgh.
L.H.—Cullum, Kingston.
R.H.—Nolan, Port Jervis.
F.B.—Stevens, Newburgh.

The Wedded Check is the New Check.

Doubtful—I've been getting threatening letters through the mail, but there's a law against that? Post Office Official—Of course there is. It's a very serious offense to send threatening letters. Have you any idea who's doing it? Doubtful—Sure. The Western Furniture Company.

A man came into a store with a very small dog under his arm. An Irishman was standing near and after a few moments of close observation he asked the stranger what breed his dog was. The man replied that it was a cross between an ape and an Irishman. "Faith then," replied Pat, "he is kin to both of us."

Rambling Remarks—Everything that goes up must come down, but not spoken of taxes. The best way to teach the children not to lie is not to lie to the children. One reason why girls kiss and make up is because the darn stuff rubs off. One way to become better off is to fall out with debt and never make up again. It's hard for a girl to tell whether her married life will be spent in patching up quarrels or in darning socks. Make way for the man who knows the way. When we try to get something for nothing, in the end we usually pay more for it. Every day something is being done that couldn't be done. Love, like hay fever, can't be hidden. Whether work is work or play is pretty much a matter of one's mental attitude. If you want to be remembered, borrow something. Love that can be stolen isn't worth stealing. If some girls are ashamed of the clothes they wear, they haven't much to be ashamed of. Quitters never win—winners never quit.

Mother—If that young man asks for a kiss, refuse it. Daughter—And if he doesn't ask for it?

Maybe it is not possible to put old heads on young shoulders, but young heads have been known to nestle on somewhat older shoulders.

Gimlet—Hello, old man, got your divorce yet? Hammer—No, and I don't expect to get one either.

Gimlet—What's the reason? Did you make up? Hammer—No, but my wife hasn't spoken to me in six months, and I don't know where I can get another like that.

Teacher—Who can give me a sentence containing the word "Fascinate"? Willie—President Hoover only buttons seven buttons on his vest because he cannot fascinate.

Caller—Doctor, I have come for my commission. Doctor—What commission? Caller—You had a man with a broken leg? Doctor—Yes. Caller—Well, I dropped the banana skin that made him slip and fall.

The haggard-looking man got into conversation with the happy, carefree bachelor on their train journey to the North.

Haggard-looking Man—Yes, I'm the father of six daughters. Bachelor—Then you and your wife have six months to feed? Haggard-looking Man (shaking his head)—No, we have twelve. They are all married.

Parents are queer. They spend considerable time learning babies to talk, then complain because they talk too much.

Young wife (sobbing)—Oh, John, I had baked a lovely cake, and I put it on the back porch for the frosting to cool, and the d-d-dog a-ate it. Hubby—Well, don't cry about it, sweetheart. I know a man who will give us another dog.

A good deal depends on the location. A man enjoys a pat on the back but is sure to resent a slap in the face.

Wife—Shall I repair this rip in your trousers? Husband—Yes, do sew by all means.

SHOKAN.

Shokan, Nov. 28.—Cary Bostock, son of Edward C. Bostock, accompanied by two of his friends, Henry P. Purdy and Leonard Gyllerhood, returned to Bryn Athyn, Pa., Sunday afternoon after spending several days at the Bostock farm on the mountain road.

Mrs. Josephine Lopez of New York city came here to spend Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Baptiste Nudal, and little daughter Carmen. Frank Harringer is having a bath room placed in his residence, near the north boulevard.

Mrs. Edward Moran and daughter, Barbara, were the guests recently of Mrs. Moran's father, Francis Humes, and sister, Mrs. Saml. Nudal. Mrs. Moran also came up to make a brief visit to the Bostock home.

The Rev. A. H. Waller, pastor of the Shokan Reformed Church, Sunday morning took his text, "Go out and both baled and loosed," through the church members of making every possible effort to bring people into the Christian fold and of supplementing this home missionary work by contributing liberally to every movement designed to increase the harvest in the Lord's vineyard.

The people of Shokan were sorry to learn of the recent death in Brook-Ashokan, who expects to go to New York city for the winter months, has past two summers had occupied the house adjoining the church, and still has more than a hundred barred rock pullets for sale.
